Pennsylvania, Michigan, and District of Columbia; U.S. Supreme Court; U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, and Eleventh Circuits, and U.S. District Courts for District of Columbia, Maryland, Eastern District of Pennsylvania, Eastern District of Michigan, and Central District of Illinois

CLERKSHIPS

Law Clerk to Judge Daniel H. Huyett 3rd, U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Pennsylvania (1984-1986)

Profile

Alison Marshall is an active litigator who has extensive experience handling complex employment litigation matters including employment discrimination class actions, FLSA collective and state wage and hour class actions, and whistleblower claims. She also routinely counsels employers on pay equity and related compensation issues, class action waivers, OFCCP compliance, ADA compliance, early retirement programs, reorganizations and reductions in force, and sexual and racial harassment policies.

Alison's recent engagements include successfully representing several employers facing potential collective actions under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act challenging layoff and university hiring practices and guiding several companies through complex pay equity reviews. She is a frequent speaker on employment and civil rights issues and the author of a number of published articles on EEO issues. She is a member of the College of Labor and Employment Lawyers as well as a member of the Equal Employment Opportunity and the Employee Rights and Responsibilities Committees of the Labor and Employment Law Section of the American Bar Association.

Alison also maintains an active pro bono practice. She co-chairs Jones Day's Anti-Human Trafficking Task Force and recently supervised a team of associates who obtained a highly publicized jury verdict in the Eastern District of Virginia on behalf of a victim of severe trafficking. She also participates in global training programs on human trafficking issues, most recently in Arusha, Tanzania.

EXPERIENCE

CLERKSHIPS

Law Clerk to the Honorable J. Daniel Mahoney, U.S. Court of Appeals, Second Circuit (1995-1996)

Profile

Chris Vergonis has more than 20 years of experience as a trial and appellate lawyer focusing on the representation of businesses and trade associations in constitutional, statutory, and regulatory litigation against the United States and other governmental entities. He has argued cases in the United States Supreme Court, the U.S. Courts of Appeals, and the federal district courts.

Chris recently prevailed before the Supreme Court in Simmons v. Himmelreich, a case concerning the circumstances under which the "judgment bar" of the Federal Tort Claims Act (FTCA) precludes a constitutional tort action against federal officers. Other recent undertakings include assisting clients in connection with rulemakings by the FDA and the CFPB; litigating a successful separation-of-powers challenge to the authority of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board; challenging local labor and environmental regulations as pre-empted by federal law; assisting a foreign bank in a regulatory dispute with the U.S. Treasury Department; challenging commercial advertising restrictions under the First Amendment; and representing plaintiffs (including biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies) in lawsuits against the United States and its agencies under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), the FTCA, and the U.S. Constitution.

Chris has written or coauthored several articles and white papers on constitutional law and statutory interpretation and previously served as the publications chair of the Administrative Law & Regulation Section of the Federalist Society.

Profile

For more than 20 years, Carter DeLorme has defended companies in employment law matters, consistently crafting solutions to advance the client's objectives. Matters frequently involve issues of equal employment opportunity, wage and hour, trade secret, and restrictive covenant claims in federal and state courts and administrative agencies. In addition to his trial court experience, Carter has guided clients in unionized settings through collective bargaining and union campaigns. He has also tried important contract interpretation and employee discipline arbitrations. Carter is also the lead practitioner for the Boston Red Sox and Texas Rangers in player salary arbitration hearings.

Carter has represented a variety of national and local employers in various matters, including Bloomberg, Computer Sciences Corporation, MedStar Health, Phoenix Satellite Television (U.S.), Reynolds American, Inc., and Verizon. He also served as colead counsel in the 2011 Presidential Emergency Board hearings representing the National Railway Labor Conference.

Carter serves on Jones Day's Firmwide Diversity, Inclusion & Advancement Committee and is the immediate past chair. He is also a member of the Washington Office's Recruiting and Pro Bono Committees. Carter is the vice president of the St. Albans School Alumni Association Board, and he sits on the Diversity & Flexibility Alliance Advisory Council. From 2013-2015, Carter served as the chair of the Make-A-Wish Foundation of the Mid-Atlantic's Board of Directors. In 2012, Carter traveled with Lawyers Without Borders to Nairobi, Kenya to teach trial advocacy to more than 50 Kenyan prosecutors, defense attorneys, and magistrate judges.
